EPH AND THE

They Are Out for Business and Politics and Free Silver.

Mr. WILLIAM FOY, Treasurer.

Mr. WILLIAM FOY, Treasurer.

It will be seen at a glance that an effort is being made to put good men in the club offices. Some of them have never been arrested more than once or twice in their lives.

The Chief Eagle has been pulled a number of times, but always from motives of malice and prejudice on the part of Democratic policemen, who have been the tools of those who have viewed with alarm Mr. Houston's rising power as a political factor. He has explained every arrest on this basis, and surely he ought to know.

Mr. Owens was arrested with the Chief Eagle on one occasion for selling liquor without license, but it was all a mistake. They sold sandwiches and gave beer away, just as some saloon men sell beer and give lunches. An ignorant police was unable to discern the fine distinction existing between these totally different ways of doing business.

The others have never been arrested on discern the she different ways of doing business.

The others have never been arrested on any more serious charges than shooting craps or perhaps a little cutting scrape. The Chief Eagle points with price to the almost stainless record of "Boots" Turner, who was never arrested but once in his life.

Of course the Republicans everywhere, regardless of race, are flocking to the support of the reorganization.

One office-holder, who shall be nameless, but who hangs people twice on the same day, sometimes, contributed $2; another gave $1.15, an alderman chipped in $1.50 and from that the subscriptions run in a descending scale to half a doilar.

Altogether, a total of $6.90 has been assured, and Nat Sebastian has not yet been heard from. As to fit up the club and pay the first month's rent only about $35 will be required, it will be seen that the Chief Eagle s project is on the eve of being crowned with success.

The Chief Eagle was seen in his cerie in Clark avenue alley, between Seventh and Eighth, Saturday morning.

Two game roosters which had the size and feathers of Dominickers, but which the Chief Eagle said was due to a freak of nature, were confined in a mocking bird care.

nature, were confined in a laceking blucage.

"Why not" said the philosopher. "Dey is birds an' dis is a bird cage. Besides," he added, "Ah has 'em fowl dar," and he laughed, for the Chief Eagle has moments when he unbends.

Then he went on to describe his aims, and give his personal views on current political questions and statesmen.

James A. Wendall, agent for Altha, Hughes & Co., linoleum dealers, who was picked up semi-unconscious in front of 618 Olive street Friday morning by the police, is an uncle of Attorney Ben F. Clark.

When Mr. Wendafl was first taken to the City Hospital he couldn't or wouldn't tell much about his adventures. Saturday morning about 1:30 o'clock Attorney Clark called at the hospital and to him Wendall was more communicative. He said that Thurday night he went out to "have a time." His pockets were full of money and he was feeling gay.

His pockets were full of money and he was feeling gay.

After a few rounds of drinks he reached Esher's Theater, on St. Charles street, and wandered inside. He then had over 1100 and a gold watch and chain. Drinks came pretty often, and he doesn't remember leaving the place.

The next thing Wendall knew he had a bad wound on his head and 150 in cash and his watch and chain were missing.

Esher's place is one of the dives closed by the police, but lately permitted to reopen again.

open again.

When Wendall reached the Hospital he had $4175 and a mileage ticket for 2,000 miles.

The Wetherlands Hotel at Evanston, Ill., is his home, and he was going to Kansas City, stopping over here on business.

Wendall admits going on periodical drunks, and says that while here last summer he was robbed of $160 and a diamond study.

"Who, then, will get your thirty votes in the St. Louis convention?"

"That is a hard question to answer, though I believe Maj. McKinley will get most of them. Ohto is our next-door neighbor, and we naturally feel kindly disposed toward any citizen of that State who aspires to the presidency. But in addition to that is Maj. McKinley's brilliant tariff record, which gives him a large and powerful following in Indiana. All the manufacturing inserests of the State are for him, and these interests are very influential in our politics."

ing interests of the State are for him, and these interests are very influential in our politics."

"I saw you talking with Ransdell just now," said Mr. Pollock, when approached by the reporter. "No man alive is closer to Gen. Harrison than is Mr. Ransdell and what he tells you about the General can be relied on, as it is ex cathedra. Still I know there is a strong feeling in Indiana, as in New York and other influential States, for another term in the White House for the General. This feeling is not shared in by the politicians, mark you, and I am free to confess that I have no admiration for the ex-President as a politician, yet the solid, conservative business element in Indiana, as all over the country, are pining for another Harrison administration. Now, don't prevert that as meaning that we have come here with a Harrison boom concealed somewhere about us, for I assure you that we have not, and further that we have taken the General at his word, as expressed in his recent letter of declination."

The Indiana Republican Convention will be held at Indianapolis, May 7, for the election of four delegates at large to St. Louis and the nomination of the State ticket. The five most prominent candidates for delegates at large are ex-Secretary R. W. Thompson, Gen. Lew Wallace, C. W. Fairbanks, S. N. Chambers and Hiram Browniee. In the opinion of ex-Marshal Ransdell Maj. C. T. Doxey of Anderson already has the fight for Governor won.

from the point of the jaw on the left side, the point where Fitz' short arm right got in its work, had not a scar on him. When the Post-Dispatch correspondent read Corbett's challenge to Fitz, the attenuated Cornishman fairly danced with rage. He called Corbett all the curses that his tongue could give expression to, and exhausted his stock of expletives in an argument against Corbett's insincerity.

"He will have to fight Maher and Choynski and whip them both before I take any notice of him. I'll treat him as though he was a yellow cur. He never was on the level, or he would not have made that gushy and unmanly break in presenting the championahip belt to his friend's conqueror, while poor O'Donnell was lying unconscious on the foor. I have just whipped the man Corbett was afraid to meet. I shall be a bit more magnanimous than he was, for I will not accept the belt won from a mem who got possession of it in the way he did. I shall fill about half a dozen engagements that hung contingent on my winning from Maher, and shall then set sail for England confide in the public."

CORRUPTION

School Board Continues to Expose Its Crooked Deals.

HAD A HOT TIME LAST NIGHT.

Committee Appointed to Investigate the Various Accusations of Fraud Against Members

Friday night's meeting of the School-Board was made interesting by further revelations of the love and esteem in which some of the members are held by other members who assume to know whereof they speak.

The honorable members of that august body threw enough mud at each other to spot several characters for life.

Charges and counter charges of dishonesty and corruption flew around the room, and at times there was even danger that a personal encounter might add to the excitement.

that a personal encounter might add to the excitement.

The warring factions and individuals carried things so far that a committee of investigation was appointed with power to select a notary public and a stenographer, and all the charges will be laid before them. If the remembers will only keep up their vituperative methods a little longer it is expected that more black history will come out than a dozen newspaper reporters could dig up in a year, if the directors hung together and kept their mouths shut at their meetings.

Even before the meeting opened there was manifest a testiness which resulted later in many bitter denunciations and the passing of the lie; and it kept growing and growing until in disgust Director Dieckman declared that the board had disgraced it-self in the eyes of the public and ought to resign unless it could succeed in dough to resign unless it could succeed in dong bet-fer.

A well packed lobby thoroughly agreed

A well packed lobby thoroughly agreed with the gentleman, for a round of ap-plause followed this remark.

The meeting was called for 7:20 o'clock, but so many of the members were late that it was 8 o'clock before President Brockman took the chair.

In the meantime Directors Sheahan and Grawe had come together.

Mr. Sheahan seemed hot under the cast the other directors' insinuations of dishonesity among the members:

"A-a-a-h," roared the director from the First Ward, "you're always threwing something up at a man's homesty. You make me sick, you do. I never say a man's dishonest unless I can prove it."

Then Mr. Sheahan, having blown off steam, sat down, while Mr. Grawe kept puffing peacefully at his cigar.

The first thing that indicated the trauble that was brewing was a motion by Mr. Dieckman on the report of the Committee on Lands and Leases. A leasehold was there recommended to be referred to W. T. Mathews, the acute young real estate man, whose name has become notorious by reason of his connection with the Olive street deal, where $2,000 disappeared in the shuffle. Mr. Mathews was to fix the terms of the lease with the prospective lesses, but Mr. Dieckman spoiled his opportunities by having the question laid over for discussion under the order of unfinished business.

deal as the reason for his objection, and James T. Farrelly's name was substituted. In this connection it is regarded as significant that Director Hickman explained that Mr. Mathews' name was inserted in the report after it left the committee's hand, this detail being left to the Chairman, Mr. Ulrich, and the Secretary.

It might show that I got the money is President then took a hand. He ted it understood that check, deed and sy were all identical. His skirts were the latter had stated that there was a rence of $5,000 in the transfer price and vanted his position understood.

ber Mr. Grawe had explained that if he tay the difference was in the transand not transfer he meant to, but this taye him from further abuse. Mr. haus, who said It was so easy for a man to make $5,00 a year out of the oll Board, jumped on him with both his is no report," he angrily shouted.

School Board, jumped on him with both feet.

"This is no report," he angrily shouted, and Mr. Grawe's statement was a base faisehood. He said he had the proof in his pocket. Let him produce it,"

"Thank you," said Mr. Grawe, politely.

Mr. Ulrich as chairman of the Lands and Leases Committee proceeded to explain. He went on to tell of how long and laboriously he had searched for an available piece of property at Taylor and Olive street. He had all kinds of trouble. Among others Mr. Joe Wright had a piece of property out there for which he wanted $175 a foot. Finally he landed on the property owned by the Hayden sisters, but he could get no trace of them anywhere, as they were non-residents. In his last extremity he sought the aid of Mathews, who located the Haydens. He wanted $100 a foot for the property, but Mr. Ulrich hissisted on $56 and finally got it for this price.

wanted $100 a foot of the property, out all Ulrich insisted on $35 and finally got it for this price.

"I thought it was cheap," he continued. "I acted honestly. It was a good bargain and I stand here ready with an offer from a responsible party to buy it for $100 a foot if the board doesn't want it. Mr. Wright wanted to spoil the deal. He wanted $15 a foot for property across the street.

"These charges are rotten. Mr. Grawe knew they were rotten when he made them. He has been throwing slush at me, as he has at the other members of the board. No man with a good moral character would do it. I defy apy man, the Post-Dispatch or any newspaper to show that I have ever been dishonest. It touches me on a tender point. I would die for my honor. My right arm would I cut off sooner than I would subscribe to a crooked transaction."

Mr. Ulrich talked very loud. He waved vooiferously the right arm that he would cut off sooner than be dishonest, but when he had finished the mystery of the $2,000 was as great as that which surrounds the check for $4,102.

Mr. Grawe again insisted meekly that he had only given another man's statement to the board, whereupon President Brockman figuratively hit him on the head for backing up a statement he had not investigated. Again Mr. Brockman came to the front with something definite.

"If the statement in the Post-Dispatch is true," he said, "the Mathews Real Estate Co. owes the board $2,000, or they have played it very since on us."

"This is the reason that I opposed the reference of the leasehold to this William P. Mathews. I now move that the matter be referred to the Counselor of the board for further investigation. In the paper Mr. Mathews admits making $10 a foot and I think it a subject for investigation."

As a substitute Mr. Wait, who had meantime come in, moved that a committee of three be appointed to investigate the matter and that they be empowered to employ a Notary Public, and a shorthand reporter.

""- Holthaus objected on the ground that

""- Holthaus objected on the ground that to have it in for Grawe way up to the handle, and he insisted on the adoption of his report.

Again the meek Grawe declared that he had made no charge, but the President insinuated that he was hedging and the member sat down.

His report was not adopted, only six members voted for it, and the order was made that he bring the proof of charges which he declares he never made.

Mr. Ulrich, strangely enough forgod all about Mr. Wait's motion and wanted to proceed to unfinished business, but the member from the Four Courts insisted on his motion. Every man voted for the investigation save Mr. Holthaus and he switched very quickly when he saw which way the cat had jumped, making it unanimous.

This being settled, Mr. Ulrich girded up is loins and went after Mr. Spinning, who man says to to prove it."

"He's been accusing me of trying to steal away a piece of property from the Dozler School," retorted Ulrich, "and I want to away a piece of property from the Dozler School," retorted Ulrich, "and I want to explain."

"I've got some rights here," was the answer, "and I'm going to call you down."

After quite a squabble Mr. Ulrich was allowed to do some more explaining and in doing so he made some more charges.

"Well, since you have accused others of peculiar deals," said he, "I have a few transactions here in which you were connected as a member of the board. I have a paper in my hand from records which show that in 1895 this board, at your suggestion, bought the present Dozler School site at 145 a foot, and yet the records show that but a few days before that time the agent who sold the board this lot at 145 a foot bought the property through a middleman at 37.50 a foot. Now, the most peculiar thing to me is that Mr. Spinning himself insisted on the purchase being made by the board, and he himself put up the earnest money in order to be sure that the deal went through. I remember when he came to me and spoke of the proposed purchase, anxiety was clearly outlined in his countenance.

"Similar circumstances marked the purchase, anxiety was clearly countenance.

"Similar circumstances marked the purchase of another piece of ground on May 23, 1893, for which this board pard $3,100. Yet the records show not long before that date the property brought but half that date the property brought but half that amount.

"The Wheatley School site is another instance. The board paid $3,000 for the ground. A few months before that date it brought but $1,300. Tet I do not directly charge fraud and corruption. Compare the record of your present committee with what has gone before, and then pass judgment. This committee has always purchased property at or below the market price. It has made all its investments honestly, and the board has been benefited by the profitable investments.

mas been benefited by the profitable investments.

"The charge has been made against me that a middleman was used is the recent purchase of a lot on Olive street. This is a falsehood, and I intend to show it up as such. Judging from the records I hold here in my hand, not only was a middleman used in the three transactions I have referred to, but I believe that a straw man was utilized for them.

"I am charging no man with fraud. There too much of the gentleman in me for that, at these things have a peculiar look."

All the documents were referred to the investigating Committee.

And now once more did Mr. Dieckman some forward with a sensation.

"Mr. President," he said, rising, "I have seen a good many disgraceful meetings in the School Board, but this one takes the take. We are going from bad to worse. Here are twenty-one men, elected to the scople of this great city, supposed to act as in example to the hundreds of teachers and the At Be repudiate and half, and t scholars in the schools, acting in a most distraceful manner. What will the parents of the 60,000 school children thins of us? What will the children themselve, think of us even the little come in the kindurgarten when they read of our actions in me newspapers?

"If this sort of thing soes on it would be better for us all to reagn and det the people elect others who can de better. Loud applause from the mob in the rear.)

"It is high time that discussion of this sort was stopped. Let us have the fullest investigation, but let us cease this talk."

Mr. Brockman, who had left the chair, arose to respond.

"While I indorse the sentiments of the last speaker." he said, "this is the place for charges to be made. Have they should be investigated and not through the press. Let us wash the linen where the wash-house."

"And I want to say further, that I stand here ready to vote for the expulsion of anyman who makes charges he cadnot substantiste."

The investigation committee was then appointed. Messrs. Wait, Hickman and Huttig were the chosen ones. They will meet at the Coroner's office Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. A report is expected Wednesday evening.

The Board could not adjourn without a climax of absurdity.

"A resolution of supreme moment was introduced by Mr. Collins. It recited the marvelous scientific value of a visit to the whale how on exhibition in this city and recommended that the teachers in all the scholars arrange to have all the scholar see it. The scholars are to put up their own admission money and the owners of the stuffed sea monster will wax financially fat thereby.

The resolution was referred in all seriousness to the Committee on Course of Study.

ousness to the Committee on Course of Study.

Despite all the hard words no blows were struck after the meeting. A sergeant and several policemen were on hand, however, to see that no blood was spilled.

pecial to The Post-Dispatch.
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 22.—Gov. Altgeld and Col. William R. Morrison have buried the hatchet, and from this time forth the Democrats of Illinois will work in ut-most harmony. This was accomplished late last night and to-day. Gov. Aligeld passed through here yesterday from Hot Springs, Ark, where he has been for the past month, en route to Chicago, "on business," as he stated.

Ark., where he has been for the past month, en route to Chicago, "on business," as he stated.

Col. Morrison left Chicago yesterday for this city. They met at Bloomington, half-way, and there and then agreed upon plans and specifications for the next campaign. Harmony was agreed upon, and the two leaders continued their respective ways, Altgeld to Chicago and Morrison to this place, which he reached bright and early this morning and registered at the St. Nicholas Hotel, where prominent Democrats visited him during the day.

When asked regarding the situation and his candidacy he said:

"I am a candidate in one sense, and am not in another. If the nomination comes to me easily and in the regular order, I am a candidate; but, in the sense of an office-chaser and beggar, I am not. I am here for harmony and desire to have our people get together. With one element shouting for a gold standard and another for free silver, we can do nothing. While the situation seems rather up-hillish, we can hold our own if in harmony. Harmony must and shall be had in Illinois."

Col. Morrison, it is said, has been assured of the delegation of this State, and also that harmony will prevail from now on.

This being settled, Mr. Ulrich girded up his loins and went after Mr. Spinning, who had been doing some talking at previous meetings about the chairman of the Lands and Leases Committee. He demanded that the gentleman from the Fourteenth District show the option on the Union avenue properly, which, he said, he could buy for $50 a 'cot. Mr. Ulrich had reported in favor of a piece at $50 a foot.

After a squabble Mr. Spinning produced options on two lots, one for $50 and one for $55. They were signed by John Mullally, per Martin Mullally, attoriey.

"Those options are not worth the paper they are written on," howled Mr. Ulrich. "They are a fraud. Mr. Spinning knew they were a fraud. Mr. Mullally is not in the city now"

"Mr. Brown, Mr. Brown," called Mr. Spinning from across the room, his very hair bristling and his finger pointed at the board stenographer, whom he was addressing, "be careful and put all that down. That man says I've committed a fraud. He's got to prove it."

MAUD B. BOOTH.

Partisans of Ballington Booth say the secret of his removal lies wholly in the fact that he has succeeded in almost completely Americanizing the Salvation Army in this country. His methods aroused the antagonism of a little English coterie, headed by Col. Badie, the Chief Secretary, who came over from England one year ago. General Booth, father of Ballington, and Commander-in-Chief of the Salvation Army, did not fancy the idea of the army in America breaking away from the English precedents, and was finally prevalled upon to order the withdrawal of Ballington Booth.

According to a clause in the constitution of the army, the Commander is absolute owner of all the real estate of the organization. The building in West Fourteenth street, completed within the last year, represents nearly $500,000, which is deeded to the Commander in his own name. He was busy all day yesterday conferring with his lawyers for the purpose of having all the property transferred to his successors.

The army is stirred to great excitement. On the steamship Teutonic Wednesday night, Eva Booth, a sister, arrived from England. Herbert Booth was hastily summoned to New York by Col. Nicol, a staff officer of the army, who came here estensibly on a mission to investigate the sentiment of rebellion in this country against the transfer of Commander Booth to another sphere of action. He arrived on Thursday, and on that day a court of inquiry was held, with Ballington Booth before them. Proceedings became heared. There were charges and recriminations. Ballington Booth was ordered to proceed at once to England. "Lwill not go," he said.

England.
"I will not go," he said.
"This is insubordination," replied Herbert.
"You know what that means in the army?"
"Yes, I know."
"It means dismissal."
"Then I will accept it," replied the Com-

"Then I will accept it," replied the Commander.

In the heat of the argument that followed the Commander complained bitterly of the injustice of his father removing him so arbitrarily from a field where he had labored so long, and in which he hoped to finish his life. He made use of insubordinate language and criticised the General severely.

"This means a trial by court-martial," cried Herbert Booth, springing to his feet. "You have spoken disrespectfully of your father and your General. I prefer charges of insubordination and disrespect against you. I move that this court proceed to try you for the words."

Col. Nicol supported Herbert Booth. He then made known his full authority.

"I have authority to dismiss you from office," he said, "and to appoint your successor. I demand of you all the property of the army in America that stands in your name. You are dismissed from office."

BRIGADIER FRENCH SURPRISED.

The Local Commander Discredits Bal-lington Booth's Dismissal.

Brigadier George French of the Salvation Army, in command of the forces at St. Louis, was disposed to discredit the story telegraphed from New York that Ballington Booth had been dismissed. He read the brief dispatches over care-fully and seemed at a loss to comprehend what it all meant. He said:

"I have no official information from head-quarters, but I would as soon believe the eky had fallen. It is a bold assertion; so wholly unlike the Booths. I know both Ballington and Herbert well and this does not seem probable. It is the more improbable in my opinion because Col. Nicol, who is merely a staff officer, would not likely have authority to dismiss the General; neither would he be likely to be the bearer of such authority.

would he be likely to be the bearer of such authority.

"In order to get to the bottom of this and fully understand the situation it is necessary to know that every few years there is a general transferring of the generals or commissioners at the head of the army in the several nations of the globe. That time has now come. Herbert Booth is to be transferred glasswhere from Canada, Gen. Howard has now come. Herbert Booth is to be transferred elsewhere from Canada, Gen. Howard will leave Australia and Ballington Booth has been ordered to 'farewell' from America. "Everybody knows this and expects it, and officers as well as cadets must obey orders without a complaint. And they always do. In the case of Ballington Booth, he received a meager cable from London to 'farewell,' and falling to understand it wrote for fuller particulars. The newspapers got hold of this and construed the letter as an objection to his removal. Then came the Carnegle Hall meeting, at which Chauncey M. Depew presided, and a letter of protest was forwarded to London asking Ballington's retention in this country.

"Now, while I candidly say I have no official knowledge of the facts, I am satisfied that Col. Nicol and Miss Eva Booth, and possibly Herbert Booth, were sent to New York to ascertain if the people really want Ballington Booth retained, and if his transfer would be detrimental to the army, "You see the position Gen. Booth is placed in. It is one of the fundamental rules that an officer must move when commanded to do so. Here is his own son, in whose favor a rescinding of the order has been asked. If he grants the request it

WROTE A POSTAL CARD. Charles Mitchell in Trouble With

A corset and a postal card caused Charles the purchaser expected, and she demandde the return of her money. The agent demurred.

Then Mr. Mitchell took a hand. He wrote

Other remarks were followed by a proposition to fight. No one objected.

There was no weighing of gloves, nor rubbing down of the participants. The temperature being near zero the participants preferred not to strip.

Kergen is tall and heavy. Goodwin is a small, wiry chap, with a Fitzsimmons eye. There were a few punches, and Kergen was getting the worst of it, when Miss Bessie rushed out and parted the young men. She lost a portion of a lace collar, but she stopped the fight. Kergen walked away, threatening further trouble.

Koodwin will not ask about it. Byewitnesses, among them Tom Golden, however, claim that he won, and that he and Miss Bessie are better friends than eyer.

Holiday Generally Observed Moliday Generally Observed.

Washington's birthday being a legal holiday was generally observed Saturday by a cessation of business downtown. The Government offices at the Federal Building and at the Post-office annex were all closed, the Circuit Courts adjourned Friday unfil Monday and the offices at the City Hall closed. Many of the business houses observed the same hours as on Sunday and Christmas, but there were still many persons on the streets downtown.

From G. L. Fox.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—There was very little betting in this city on the result of the Fitzsimmons-Maher dight. Billy Edwards was seen at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. He held some money, but not much to speak of. Jerry Dunn, the old-time referee, was at the Hoffman House. He said that he had not bet a cent on the affair. At the St. James Hotel Johnny Manning succeeded in placing some money for his friends. Billy West managed to get some money down on Fitzsimmons. Al Smith, who arrived from El Paso, was at the Glisey House and tried to assure a few doubting friends that the battle would certainly come off. Smith told a reporter that he had not wagered much on the contest and what little money he had bet was on Fitzsimmons.

"I met Corbett in Chicago." said Smith, "and he told me that he was confident Fitzsimmons would win because he was afraid that Maher would winde when he thought of the beating he received from Fitzsimmons a few years ago. Corbett means to fight Fitzsimmons and I'll hack him for any amount. Fitzsimmons, it my opinion, has aged considerably and did not look very well when I saw him just."

At the Mariborough, Imperial, Grand, Coleman and the Lincoln Hotels few bets were made. Geo. Jones of Baltimore and Dave Houslinger of Frisco cach wagered 5500 on Maher to win. They got fair odds. Ed Nail won several hundred dollars on Fitzsimmons and his friend, Jaff Jackson, was also a winner. The largest wager of the day was recorded at the Mariborough. Dan Gerrity of Boston bet, G. L. Fox of Ohio 35,000 to Fitzsimmons. He got the money down just before the news of Fitzsimmons victory was made known.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 22.—The sports of this city are Iseling sore over Maher's defeat, and he will not be welcomed with the hurrah which greeted him on his return home from the O'Donnell mill. About $10,000 was lost on the fight here and most of it was posted in December at even money. Maher was then, in the eyes of Pittsburgers, a sure winner, but as the time of meeting approached, Fitzsimmons money went begging. The announcement of the shortness of the contest was a great disappointment to Peter's many friends and his hold on them has dwindled to very small proportions.

He said after his fight with Maher was over he would fight any man in the world. He is now getting out of this country as fast as possible, bag and baggage.

IF ENGLAND HOLDS BACK.

Plan of the Ways and Means Committee to Force the Co-Operation of Great Britain.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 22.—Chairman Dingley has reported to the House the bill agreed on by the Ways and Means Committee to prevent the extermination of fur bearing animals in Alaska. According to the terms of the measure if the President finds himself unable to secure the cooperation of Great Britain, especially in securing the modus vivendi authorized by the bill, so as to protect and preserve the Alaskan seal herd for this year's sealing season, then the Secretary of the Treas-ury is authorized to take each and every fur seal on the Pribylof Islands and sell skins and to cover the proceeds into the skins and to cover the proceeds into the Treasury.

"It is believed," says the accompanying report, "that it is Canada that is standing in the way and holding back Great Britain from po-operating with us in the preservation of the seal herd, and that when Canada sees that we propose to take summary measures to end not only the inhumanity that consigns thousands of young seals to slow starvation, but also the farce by which we are expending large sums of money to police Behring Sea practically to aid her pelagic sealers in the work of exterminating seals, she will no longer endeavor to prevent England from uniting with us in efficient measures to save the seal herds to the world."

Five millions of dollars is estimated as the probable amount that would be realized if the Government should resort to the killing and sale of the skins of what seals are left. It is said that inasmuch as all the sealskins go to London to be prepared and dried, giving employment to nearly 50,000 persons, even Great Britain herself would be deprived of a valuable source of income for her own people should the industry be destroyed.

I am not a candidate and do not know that I shall be, nevertheless I should esteem it a great compliment to be chosen to represent the district. If no better man wants the place, and if it should be thought that I am the proper person to lead the fight, then I should be happy to accept the honor, and would leave no stone unturned to redeem the district frem Republicanism.

However, my ambition in that direction is not strong enough to lead me to thrust my candidacy upon the people, nor engage in a wrangling contast with any other good free coinage Democrat. There is ample time yet in which to determine whether I am the man to make the race. Whether I lead or follow I shall keep up the fight for the "dollar of our daddies."

For the present let us forget men and continue our struggle for bimetallism. I believe I see the light ahead for free colmage. gate in the Twenty-eighth Congressional District and he has been offered the place as alternate at-large.

Lieut.-Gov. Saxton's position is peculiar. He has the enmity of the State machine and the machine has his enmity. He is a candidate for Governor, but he knows he will never get the nomination if the machine can head him off, and it thinks it can. He is one of the warmest friends of Gov. Morton in the State, and although he is slated to be an alternate-at-large he will be a candidate for delegate from the Twenty-eighth District. This, he thinks, is necessary to show the public that he has his county behind him.

The fight against Saxton is very bitter. Mr. Platt has given forth the order that he must be humiliated by being defeated in his own district. The slated delegates are Senator John Raines of Ontario and Sereno E. Payne of Cayuga.

Miss Annie O'Neil was taken into the hospital Friday kicking and struggling violently in the grasp of two policemen. She had been brought from St. John's Hospital.

Annie was deposited in division No. 2. The moment she had her feet on the ground and her hands free she began itearing off her clothing. Then pulling a scapular from her neck she dashed it to the ground crying, "May the devil fly away with the Catholics; I'm an A. P. A." Reclining on one of the seats a few feet away, was Mary Kelly.

During Mary's life she has made divers and circuitous detours from the path of virtue, but she still cherishes a fewerence for the church. She jumped to her feet and closed th on Annie.

"Don't you talk that way before me," she ehrleked, getting a "half-Nelson" on Annie. "I may be a bad woman now, but once I was good and a member of the church you are making remarks about."

Miss O'Neil took a punch at Miss Kelly's face with one hand and pulled away a strand of hair with the other. Miss Kelly let go her hold and begat to do a little reaching herself. She landed on the lady from St. John's Hospital several times before the nurses could pull them apart.

Annie O'Neil claims the sisters are trying to keep her out of her money.

ADDRESS BY MRS. O'FALLON,

She Eloquently Dwelt on the Stirring Scenes of the Great War for Liberty.

Mrs. James O'Fallon as State regent of Missouri for the Daughters of the American Revolution entertained the St. Louis Chapter Saturday afternoon, assisted by Mfs. Ran-Saturday afternoon, assisted by Mfs. Randolph Hutchinson, post chapter regent for St. Louis, and Mrs. Gen. Shields, a member of the distinguished Harrison family, the newly elected chapter regent, and Mrs. Ben O'Fallon. Mrs. O'Fallon's spacious and beautifully furnished house was decorated with the na:Jonal colors. In the drawing rooms appeared the insignia of the Daughters of the American Revolution, while the library displayed the colors of the "buff and blue," in honor of the colonial forefathers, with the insignia of that order in gilt designs. The third room was dedicated so Mrs. O'Fallon's grandfather, Gen. James Taylor, who was the financier of the war of 1812, and whose individual means maintained the American army when there was no money in the Treasury to reimburse him.

COST OF WHITEWASH.

Another Item of Expense Frem the City Hall Investigation.

The bills incurred by the Heckel Investi-gating Committee are beginning to come in. Architect J. G. Cairns turned one in Friday for $786.50, this being the amount due him, he claims, for discovering that the new City Hall is a model building in every

He is the only man in the city who has

He is the only man in the city who has been able to overlook the crooked work that was done by the contractors and on that account he feels that he should be well paid.

No one seems to know just how much work he did or when he did it, but a little thing like that cuts no ice with Mr. Heckel and his associates so long as the people have to foot 5he bill.

Taken in connection with Miss Lampe's bill for over 1,000 for two months' work as a stenographer, the Cairn charge will help to swell the expense to which the taxpayers have been subjected in the effort which was made to find out what was already known. The cost will probably foot up nearly $5,000 and President Nagel of the Council has pointed out that according to the committee's repert all the defective work could have been replaced for $1,000. A protest will be made against payment of all the bills on the ground that they are exorbitant.

CLARKE AND M'MATH.

another fall out of his ancient enemy at Friday's meeting of the Council.

It came up over the bill authorizing the employmens of a consulting architect at 125 a day, a superintendent of construction at 1200 a month, a chief inspector at 1125 a month and six inspectors and four draughtsmen at 1813 a month each. These men are to be appointed by McMath and are to aid him in the construction of 5cs new City Hall.

The architect is to take the place of Macon, whose position McMath claims is vacant. The old architect insists upon helding on to his job, but McMath refuses to recognise him.

whose position McMath claims is vacant. The old architect insists upon holding on to his job, but McMath refuses to recognise him.

Since the appointment of the Heckel Committee Mann has not been consulted in any way by the Board of Public Improvements and his suggestions are dumped in the waste basket. He has offered to resign if he is not wanted, but even this satisfaction is denied him. He is simply ignored and no opportunity is overlooked to humiliate him. He comes and goes about the City Hall and no one pays him the least attention.

'Pat Clarke know this and he has taken it upon himself to defend the architect. And why? Simply because Clarke is in the Council, the mouthpiece of Noonan and O'Meara, through whose influence Mann's plans were originally accepted. While Clarke is ostensibly a Republican he has always been identified with the Noonan push, and it was to protect their interests that he became a member of the Heckel committee that whitewashed all the jobbing in the new City Hall.

They overlooked entirely all the crooked work in connection with the letting of contracts, and contented shemselves with laying the blame on McMath's shoulders.

Clarke, who was responsible for that portion of the report dealing with McMath, had it written by ex-Mayor Noonan, and fought to have it adopted in she Council.

A City Hall official said Saturday: "It is easy to understand why Clarke is so eager in his fight against the President of the Board. They battled with Col. Flad as long as he was in office and tried in every way to discredit all his actions. The same course was adopted when Burnett came into office. Now they are trying it on McMath.

"Just the same, you will find that Clarke will come out at she small end of the horn. He is angry because McMath will not make room for some of his henchmen in the office of the board. He tried to get places for two of his men, and when he failed he turned on McMath.

"In spite of his efforts Mann will go ut and sizy out and a new architect will be

The question discussed is popularly supposed to be that of the reinstatement of Police Capt. Wm. Young, though as none of those who were parties to the conference would discuss any factor of it, this suposition, of course, could not be verified.

It is generally conceded, though, that Capt. Young will be reinstated at next Tuesday's regular meeting of the board with the votes of Commissioners John A. Lee and Otto Forster.

Gov. Stone is expected to announce his selection for the vacancy in the Police Board early next week.

When Charles W. Rose

When Charles W. Rosenbach emerges from his present obscurity and returns to his usual haunts, an ordinary regard for his personal safety will prempt him to avoid the neighborhood of Barnes Medical College, Beaumont and Chestaut streets. In that locality he is apt to enfecunter men thirsting for his gore or anything else he has about him.

For the past two fears Rosenbach has managed the drug store in the college building. In that capacity he made friends with the students and gained their confidence to such an extent that many of them frequently deposited small sums with him in preference to the trouble of opening a hank account. Now they regret it.

Friday it was noticed that Dr. J. S. Sufcille had charge of the drug store. Inquiry developed the fact that Rosenbach had gone. Where? Nobody knew. Then consternation reigned. The news spread quickly, and a crowd of angry students gathered in the store. The arrival of several constables with attachment writs had no tendency to allay the excitement. Dr. Sutcliffe and a constable came to blows over the possession of a valles. The students were expelled from the store, and at inightfall "chaos" was the only word comprehensive enough to express the situation.

Saturday was a holiday, but before so clock at least fifty students had assembled before the drug store. The doors were locked, and three constables stood guard. The students demanded to be let in to get their mail, which is always distributed at the drug store, and became angry when the officers refused to open the door.

Threats to break in the doors were freely made and the students were preparing to put them into execution when the Constables compromised by passing the mail out the presence of Rosenbach were freely expressed, and they had an ominous swund.

As near as can be estimated now Rosenbach's liabilities are about as follows: Five hundred dollars to $1,000 money he held for the students; $500 to Dr. Sutcliffe; $35 to the students of the Pose to the first of the students of the presence of streets and the faculty and the students met at Occidental Hail, Thirty-fourth and Olive streets, where a preliminary service was held. A procession consisting of the faculty and students of the college, the members of the Grand Lodge and the friends of the institution, headed by a band, was formed and marched to the site for the new building at Garrison avenue and Chestnut street. Judge Leroy B. Valliant acted as Grand Marshal. Here imposing ceremonies were conducted.

Addresses were made by Col. H. M. Hough, Grand Master of Missouri; John D. Vincil, D. D., President of the Board of Trustees, and Grand Masonic Secretary, and Dr. C. H. Hughes, Fresident of the faculty. The corner-stone was laid by Col. Hough. In a box in the corner stone were deposited copies of the leading St. Louis daily papers, lecture cards, catalogue for each year of the college, copies of invitations and programmes for each commencement, a list of matriculates for the present year, a copy of the charter, a copy of a picture of a living hand photographed by Prof. Roentgen at Hamburg, Germany, by the X rays, and photographs of Prof. Pinckney French, D. D., the founder of the school, and his wife.

Addresses were also made by E. E. Morrison of Kansas, President of the senior class; Bruce Watson of lowa, President of the junior class; and H. M. Luttman of Missouri, President of the freshman class. One "burning" question arose during the exercises. It was regarding the contents of the stone. Dr. French recommended that a copy of the Prost-Dispatch containing the report of the ricous meeting of the State Board of Health last Saturday in which the flarnes faculty figured be a part of the sacred contents.

Dr. Hughes objected because he said he figured too prominently in the little mix-up. He didn't want the next generation to secure the contents of the stone, and read of him as a disturber. The other members of the faculty made light of his objection and the his-layer of the bischer.

Then it became known for the first time that the handsome young man was the Governor of Texas. The gentleman who unconsclously made this fact known was exsenator "Gus" Houston of San Antonio, who was beaten for Congress by a Republican in the catachysm of 'M. The Republican who beat him, by the way, is Judge Geo. H. Noonan, a cousin of the Democratic ex-Mayor of St. Louis.

Gov. Culberson is accompanied by his Secretary of State, Allison Mayfield, and Chas. S. Morse, Clerk of the Supreme Court of Texas. The party travel in a private car and are en route to Washington, D. C., on official business, the nature of which the Governor refuses to reveal. A part of the business needs to be transacted in St. Louis, and for that purpose they stopped here to-day. They will perhaps be detained in this city until Sunday morning.

"You will have to excuse me from an interview on any topic," said Gov. Culberson to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "And as to politics—whew! I wouldn't talk about Texas politics with any newspaper man alive." The Governor actually shuddered as he said this.

"No," he went on to say, "I must positively decline to be interviewed. Everybody knows of the wonderful development now going on in Texas and of our almost incomprehensive possibilities, and as that theme is almost worn threadbare there is nothing new for me to talk about except politics, and as I before stated, that is a tabooed subject to me."

As soon as Gov. Stone, who is at the Southern, learned that Gov. Culberson was at the Planters', he sent an urgent invitation to the distinguished Texan to dine with him. The invitation was accepted, and the two Governors dined together at the Southern at 2 p. m. gallows in his old, fail-worn suit of clothes and dirty underwear by stating that he is only allowed $25 by the city for each execution.

"The city allows the Sheirff $25 for an execution," he said, "and experience has taught me that it generally costs three times that amount, without counting a new outfit. If I was to buy a new suit of clothes for the condemned man the Auditor would never allow it in my bill, and I would have to pay for it out of my own pocket. You see, an execution is quite expensive. After the death watch is set the condemned man is allowed anything he wants at the Sheriff's expense, and some of them have costly whims.

Sheriff's expense, and some of them have costly whims.

"The rope costs $5 and there are other expenses that I can't enumerate at present. Now about that rope breaking. It was a new rope, and not an old one, as has been stated. All the hangman's ropes used in this section of the country are made by one firm, and I have asked that firm to furnish me with a statement of when it was made and other particulars about it. We tested it thoroughly and no one feels as badly about the mishap as myself."

When Sheriff Troll's attention was called to the fact that it is the custom all over the State, with County Sheriffs who make less than $2,000 a year, to provide condemned men with a complete new outfit at their own expense he only sald:

"Well, they can do lots of things in the country that I can't do here. Fitzgerald's friends should have seen that he had decent clothes to be buried in."

A VOICE FROM WALL STREET.

Mr. E. C. Benedict, the President's Wall Street friend, assures the country that Mr. Cleveland will not keep it waiting, but will soon speak out his intentions with regard to a third term. In behalf of the country the Post-Dispatch tenders Mr. Benedict grateful acdgments of his courtesy and con sideration. His utterance was undoubtedly prompted by a sincere desire to give comfort to the country by assuring it of Mr. Cleveland's remembrance. Mr. Benedict unquestionably thinks that the country is in a state of apprehension and nervousness, bordering on hysteria, to know if the President intends to step

SETTLE IT NOW.

Since the question has been raised as to whether it is the States or the Congressional districts that elect delegates to a national convention, it is highly desirable to settle the question once for all, as far as Missouri is concerned, at the convention to be held at Sedalia in April. As long as there was no dispute as to what national delegates represent, there was no reason for not following the surface indications of "custom and precedent." Now that the point is raised, however, the underlying "principle" should be settled and settled right.

If it is the Congressional districts that

If it is the Congressional districts that If it is the Congressional districts that will support him, it is an argument in favor elect and send delegates to a national convention, then the district delegates as he is all right on the money question alone have the right to bind their national delegates by instructions. The national delegates thus elected by the district delegations will be under no more bligation to obey the instructions of the State Convention than are members of Congress to obey the instructions of a State Legislature. The State Convention can bind by instructions the four dele gates-at-large; the district delegates will be absolutely free to obey or ignore the the same opinion, they can easily do expressed wishes of the State Convention as they may choose.

On the other hand, if it is the States and not the Congressional districts that all disappear. elect and send delegates to national conventions, the State should assert its authority as soon as it is challenged. If of Sunday journalism, the Sunday Postit is the States that are represented in national conventions, it is the State and the State only that has the right to elect its representatives to those conventions and to bind them to do its will.

The question now at issue is a muc broader and more vital one than is involved in Missouri's representation at Chicago next July. The question now to be settled is, Does the State choose and end its representatives to a convention n which the representation is by States and Territories alone, or does that right belong to the Congressional districts, except as to the delegates-at-large?

LOWERING THE STANDARD.

The people of St. Louis are proud of their public school system, It has the have control in silver States. reputation of being one of the best in the country. Despite scandals over the letting of contracts and other transactions of the School Board the standard of education and of teaching is maintained at a high point of efficiency.

How long would this standard be maintained if the schools were turned over to political bosses to be made the spoils of a party machine? How long would fitness be the test of appointments to places in the schools? Would the political hustler or the scholar and skillful teacher be preferred? Would scandals have to be extended. An hour is so short in contracts be increased or diminished?

The intention of the Republican party to attach the schools to its machine is avowed in its platform. The candidates in and save it from the rash impulses on the ticket are pledged to obey the party bosses acting through a caucus.

I regard the emancipation of our financial affairs from the control of Wall street and their rearrangement upon a higher plane and along lines that look alone to the public interests of such tremendous importance that I am determined to fight for it, and to stand with those whe fight for it, until victory shall be achieved. And as for myself I am determined to make the fight so that if we win a victory it will be a substantial victory, and not one that will turn to ashes in our hands.

Whatever Col. Morrison may say with reference to his views and position upon public questions I will accept as beling honest and true. The trouble with him, however, is that he makes no declaration at all; he is silent. I have always understood that he is not a pronounced single gold standard man, he is at least opposed to free silver coinage. In other words, I have always understood that he is upon the gold side of this controversy. Now, I am reluctant to support any man who does not speak out; I am as much opposed to evasion as to dissimulation.

The question was asked in these St. Louis conversations to which I refer, "If not Morrison, then who can we support?" I see you lean to Gov. Boles. So do I. If we have no Missouri candidate, and I know of none, then does not Boles come nearer to our standard than any other? He is a man-of the people, honest, courageous and capable. He may be a little more conservative with regard to some matters of detail than some others, but he is a pronounced friend of free silver coinage. If Gov. Boles were President we would have an old-fashioned Democratic administration. That he is a pronounced in mine fort should be made to bring it about. But I do not k

An Immense Crowd Assembled at Exposition to View the Latest Inventions for Ridera.

The man or woman without a bicycle this ummer will be strictly not in it. If there summer will be strictly not in it. If there sver was any doubt of this, it was finally dispelled at the Bicycle Show Friday night. It was Society Night, and society was there in its full strength and gala array. Also almost everybody else. The crowds surged in the lobby, blocked the aisles of the dress circle and concepted the stress had been supplyed to the stress of the stres the dress circle and congested the naves be-tween the exhibits in Music Hall; a richly attired, courteous, good-natured crowd, as free of friction as the silent steeds they were tired, courteous, good-natured crowd, as free of friction as the silent steeds they were there to see.

And all, apparently, were intent upon selecting a wheel to supersede an old one, or become the means of hitherto untried enjoyment. It was a case of—

"How happy could I be with either Were tother dear charmer away."

There were wheels and wheels, each with its particular exclusive feature to recommend it, and the person who could view them all and then make a calm and deliberate selection off hand was a Solomon in disguise. Very few even attempted it. Instead, men and women loaded themselves down with catalogues and went home to headaches and nervous prostration in the attempt to solve the problem at their leisure—a regular Chinese puzzle without a key.

The crowd that streamed through the Olive street doors of the Exposition in, constant procession from 2 o'clock until 9 was not a hurry-up crowd. I5 was on hand to see and as every exhibit had its especial attractions, it was a regular accommodation train journey through the halls, with frequent and lengthy stops.

Before passing into Music Hall there were the exhibits in the lobbies to be inspected, the 35.00 diamond encrusted wheel, the Thor hub and Christmas tree of pedals of the Simmons Hardware Co.'s display, the bicycle shoes, the thousand and one other things contributing to the comfort and elegance of cycling.

The crowd itself was one of the attractions of the show Fridey right.

ence of potted plants and out flowers, made all complete.

The first stopping place for the crowd on entering Music Hall was the station of the Good Streets Committee, which had been snatched from the oblivion of an antercom on the lobby and placed on a pedestal at the front of the dress circle. In the mud-bespattered wheel and rider representing the present effects of St. Louis streets, every rider saw a picture of himself at at least one stage of his cycling career, while he looked with incredulous admiration upon the spotless white duck costume of the rider who will enjoy the streets of the future. The result was that the gentlemen in swallow-talled coats, who stood on the platform, had but few blank applications for L. A. W. membership when the hall was closed for the night.

The whirr-whirr of the "home-trainer." ridden by whoever cared to try his endurance, sounded above the hum of conversation, and the small boy's shrill, treble piped merrily as he pleaded for "just one more bicycle button, mister," and expatiated on the particular merits of the wheels all and severally.

"I think those low frames are a great improvement," remarked one gentleman, intent upon fitting himself to join the madding throng in the merry springide. "I guess I'll buy one instead of the high frame. They are more compact."

"The high frames are more graceful," ventured his companion.

And so the discussion went on in endless medley of narrow tread, high gear, improved sprockets, electric lamps and all the rest until the man who didn't know a tandem from a drop frame and had come to learn, thought he'd rather tackle logarithms. The ever shifting panorama continued until 11 o'clock and after, when "lights out" was sounded, and the show was over until to-day.

The ever shifting panorama continued until 11 e'clock and after, when "lights out" was sounded and the show was over until today.

This is the last day of the show and just as the attendance of Friday more than doubled that of Thursday, so the crowds today were far in excess of those of Friday. The doors were opened at 2 o'clock. The hall will be closed at 10 o'clock to-night, one hour earlier than on Thursday and Friday.

"How is that Republic bicycle edition? It contained more news for wheelmen than a magazine."

This was rather rubbing it in on The Bike, the popular new wheelmen's magazine, which made its bow to the St. Louis public, and from which about one-third of the news in the Republic bicycle edition was clipped without credit.

J. William Stuart is editior of The Bike, with offices in the Granite Block, Mr. Stuart pointed out to a Post-Dispatch reporter twelve squibs stolen by the Republic from The Bike, twenty-one squibs under the heading "About Bikes and Roads," comprising all under that head; one item under the heading, "Dr. De Witt Talmage under the heading, "Dr. De Witt Talmage under the heading, "Dr. De Witt Talmage Gravors Bicycling," another under "This Pacemaker Was a Bird." All were reproduced without the trouble of rewricing and five of the leading illustrations were stolen. These were: "A Butte Street Car with Bicycle Hooks All Taken." "The Outing," "The Milkmaid." "The Nursegirl of the Puture," "Five Years Hence—On Her Way to Church."

"The other day," said Mr. Stuart, "a representative of the Republic came here for a copy of The Bike. He was very solicitous as to whether any other paper would have a copy of it. I had but a few copies left and had not intended to send any around. I told him so and he seemed relieved. Afterward I thought it only fair to send them to all the papers and did so. The Republic stole bodily from The Bike, while the other papers gave The Bike credit for what they used from it."

Another promising youngster is McGuigan's Jim Gore, brown colt out of Bagpipes. McGuigan has little to say about Jim bore and is jealous of the public eye, hardly ever letting his work in public, but it is known that he agards him as the best 2-year-old in his bunch, and expects him to do greater things than were done by his Ben Eder last season. Special to The Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 22.—A report is now current here that the recent tangle between Representatives Jasper Talbert of South Carolina and Barrett of Massachusetts will insure the loss to several South Carolina Congressmen of their seats. It has been understood that at least three, if not all of the sitting members from South Carolina, would get clear titles to their seats. Then came the Talbert episode, and almost instantly the reports said to be ready for promulgation were held back, and discouraging hints were thrown out to the interested gentlemen from South Carolina. All inquiries were met with the statement that the committee were having great trouble in reaching a decision in those cases. It was said also that the Republican National Committee was urging the Republicans of the Election Committee not to lose sight of the political passibilities involved.

Ex-Representative Smalls, one of the representative colored Republicans of South Carolina, has been upon the floor of the House for several days using his influence among Republican members in behalf of the Republican contestants in every case. Although he is personally opposed to George Washington Murray, who is contesting the Charleston district with Representative Elliott, Smalls is playing politics strictly.

The complainant is Miss Maud Jostin, 28 years old and handsome. Her attorney describes her as broken down mentally and physically. The names of Mr. Phoenix and Miss Joslin have been mentioned together before and that was in October isst, when he caused her arrest in a manner which Miss Joslin's counsel claim denoted police collusion.

Mr. Phoenix, who is about 6 years old.

The American Encyclopædic Dictionary

At the specially low introductory price of $1 Cash and $1.25 per Month for One Year.

The American Newspaper Syndicate,

Under whose auspices this wholly remarkable distribution has been conducted, announce that, although the 1000 introductory sets will all be allotted early in the day, it has decided, in order not to disappoint readers living at a distance, to fill all orders which come in, from personal application or telegraph, at Syndicate Headquarters, 812 Olive Street, up to 10 o'clock Monday Morning, or in letters mailed or telegrams sent any time to-day.

Such a Liberal Proposition Has Never Before Been Made, and Will Never Again Be Repeated.

AFTER MONDAY

The work will be sold by subscription only, and the original subscription price of $42 per set will prevail.

Open This Evening Until 10 O'Clock. How to Secure This Magnificent Work. Brink or Send $1.00 to THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER

And the entire set of four superb volumes bound in cloth will be forwarded. The balance is to be paid at the rate of 11.5 monthly for 12 months. The work will be supplied in half moreco for file menthly and in full sheep for $1.75 monthly for the 12 months. THE FIRST PAIMENT IN EVERY CASE IS ONLY $1.00. At the time of sending your first payment please designate the style of binding you desire, and indicate how you wish the volumes sent, as the charges for delivery must be paid by the purchaser. Remember the entire set is sent you when the first payment of $1.00 is received, and you therefore have the use and benefit of the volumes during the whole year you are paying for them. The absolute confidence of the syndicate that the work will be thoroughly paid for, is clearly shown by sending such a valuable set of books, the subscription price of which is $42.00, on an advance payment of only $1.00. Every one is invited to call and inspect the work, or sample pages will be sent on application.

Great Victory for Medical Science. The Triumph of the Age.

HEALTH ₹ VIGOR ₹ MEN.

Has little charm for a certain class of suffering men. Thousands of men are physically weak and mentally "out of tune" who could just as well be very princes of manly vigor and good nature. The day is past when victims of sexual weakness or impotency need despair. There is a way to escape the extreme and stores than fatal penalty of youth's sad error or man's indiscretions. Advanced medical science has found that way. All men can avoid further suffering by following the instructions found in a wonderful book called "Complete Manhood, and Jow to Attain R," which is sent entirely free to any address. It tells how lost manhood is fully and speedily restored; how vigorous tone is imparted to every organ of the body. It explains how obstacles to happy marriage are permanently removed. If you are a sufferer write for it at o.nce, and have no fear of fraud. Treatise endorsed by eminent physicians; 2,000 testimonials from completely cured men. Quotations from a recent letter:

"You cannot imagine how joyful I have become, and I only received your book about three weeks ago. I almost dance—indeed I did the other morning—so positive am I of a speedy cure and the full recovery of my lost strength."

Historia Autoria BURIED ALIVE

Was Luci Freisinger Interred While in a Trance?

SUSPICION OF A FRIEND.

When Stretched on a Bier Her Pace Had the Appearance of One Who Sleeps Sweetly.

Special to The Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK Feb. 22.—The Press to-day prints a letter from its dramatic critic, in which is taken the ground that Miss Luci Freisinger, the beautiful German actress, who is supposed to have died suddenly Tuesday, was not dead, but was buried alive while in a brance. The Press is not a sensitional paper and the article is given with all seriousness. The letter says:

"Early on Wednesday afternoon a young lady was ushered into my study. Without any preliminaries, she declared that Luci Freisinger was dead: Upon recovering from the shock of this statement, I inquired for particulars. Whereupon the visitor told this story:

"At 11 p. m., on Tuesday, Miss Frei-

"Me tile p. m., on Tuesday, Miss Freisinger was arrayed in her Countess Guakt gown, putting the final touches to her costume in preparation for the following night's performance. She had no maid, and Miss Freisinger had called in the landlady of her boarding house to deolde on the fit of the gown. While discussing this matter with the landlady, suddenly Miss Freisinger staggered back from her mirror into the adjoining bedroom and as was supposed died there. The hour was ten minutes past 11 o'clock."

ing bedreom and as was supposed there. The hour was ten minutes past II o'clock.

"My visitor assured me that a doctor was sent for, but none could be found. Luci Freisinger expire, as was believed, in, the landlady's arms and was promptly laid out for burial. Immediately after hearing phase things I went down to the Irving place boarding-house for the purpose of offering a last tribute of respect to my unfortunate friend. That was at 3 p. m. on Wednesday, fifteen hours later.

"The young actress was stretched on a bier, Her appearance was lifelike to a startling degree. Her lips were ruddy, her cheeks were full of color, her eyes were closed naturally and there was the usual smiling expression around her mouth.

"I have seen many dead folk, but never one like that. There was nothing of the pallor or rigidity of death about her. She lay as one in a faint, and seemed so much alive that I passed my hand over her brow, to be aure that no life warmth was left in its veins."

Then follows a statement of how the land-that I passed my hand over her brow, to see sure that no life warmth was left in its veins."

Then follows a statement of how the land-lady and the actress' brother had insisted that she was dead, the latter refusing to delay the tuneral to give a chance for the possible recovery of his sister. The letter concludes as follows:

"Thirty-eight hours after she sab laughing at her looking-glass, Luci Freisinger was carried to Calvary Cemetery, and at the time when she expected to appear as Countess Gucki on the stage, the young actress was lying under frozen earth in the deserted, wind-swept, wintry graveyard. was lying under frozen earth in the deserted, wind-swept, wintry graveyard.

"Perhaps it is all an illusion of the senses. Perhaps she really is dead. But many folk besides the writer feel dumbly that there was too much haste in this burial, and her companions in the Irving Place Theater speak in terrified whispers of what may happen in the coffin of their young leader.

"What an awful thing it would be if Luci Freisinger came out of her trance and shrieked for help to escape from the dark and wormy prison of Calvary!"

GRAVE CRISIS AVERTED. Unexpected Action Has Been Taken by the French Senate.

PARIS, Feb. 22.-Most of the newspapers regard the conflict between the Ministry and the Chamber of Deputies on the one and the Chamber of Deputies on the one hand and the Senate on the other as ended. The moderate Republicans praise the wisdom of the Senate in baffling the hopes of the enemies of the Republic, and the Socialists and Radicais declare that the Senate capitulated, fearing a revision of the constitution, which, however, is held to be inevitable. The Conservatives maintain that the Senate will finally win.

The Senate will finally win.

The Senate yesterday, by a vote of 184 to 60, adopted a motion protesting against what is characterized as a violation of its constitutional rights. The motion declares the

BUSINESS BLOCK BURNED.

Very Destructive Fire Breaks Out at Charleston, Mo.

CHARLESTON, Mo., Feb. 22.—Fire broke out in the Commercial block, one of the most important business buildings in this city, at 8 o'clock this morning, and before city, at 3 o'clock this morning, and before it was finally stopped had completely destroyed that block, a two-story brick, the Danforth two-story brick and Mrs. Ketterer's two-story building. They were occupied by the firms of Cleve & Nosal, tailors: M. V. Golder, stationer; Albert Kennerly, grocer; the Enterprise newspaper; J. R. Capshaw, barber, and the Loftin Hotel and Mrs. Ketterer's megt market. From the three latter establishments only were stocks saved. The losses will aggregate upwards of $20,000, with insurance to probably half that amount. The fire originated in an unoccupied room in which household furniture was stored, As its doors were supposed to be locked and bolted no cause is known for the conflagration.

Horrell and Louis Misplay Threwn From a Buggy.

lal to The Post-Dispatch. RED BUD, Ill., Feb. 22.-While Lake Hor rell and Louis Misplay were returning to their homes near here their horse became frightened and ran away. Both men were thrown out of the buggy and Misplay was killed instantly. Coroner Dinges held an inquest this morning.

BEAUREGARD HOME IN ASHES. Burned to the Ground While Filled With St. Louis Guests.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 22.-The home of H. T. Beauregard, son of Gen. Beauregard, was destroyed by fire yesterday. A spark on the roof caused the blaze. At the time the mansion was full of St. Louis guests, relatives of Mrs. Beauregard. The edifice was Gen. Jackson's head-quarters during the war of 1812 and in it he planned the defense of New Orleans against the British. In 1825 Lafayette was received in this house by Louisiana's Governor.

HOW TO INVEST. ONLY AS LARGE

Our Planet Would Rasily Kneel Out the Perrine Comet.

YET WE WOULD SEE STARS.

As We Are Traveling Nineteen Miles a Second, it Is Probable That the Tramp Will Never Touch Us.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—Mr. Garrett P. Serviss, in an interview discussing the report that Perrine's comet is traveling towards the earth at a rate of 1,700,000 miles a "I judge the comet is a small one, perhaps as large as the earth. That would not be very large for a comet. It probably is not coming toward us, as the dis-ordinary remody."

"This great preparation has been enclaimed to the company of t chunks of matter the result would be different.

"The heat generated by the contact with the atmosphere would be sufficient to melt things. For instance, a one hundred ton piece of fron might burn a hole as big as the State of New York. Under the tremendous the heat the earth and stone in the immediate neighborhood would be vaporized immediately. But there are no large particles of matter in the make-up of a comet.

"There is just one possibility of unpleasantness in a comet's hitting the earth, That is the subsequent effects on the atmosphere would be filled with gaseous matter, and if the comet was a very big one, made up in part of gases, as they are, it might induce matter into the atmosphere deleterious to health. It might give us the grip or pre-

NOT IN OUR "SET,"

Prof. Pritchett Says We Are Not Threatened by the Comet.

Some of these fine days or nights a great big comet is going to smash this earth end-wise if the astronomers do not quit making Perrine's comet is not the one to do it, though. It was sighted some time ago by Prof. Perrine at the Lick Observatory and the announcement made that it is coming at the earth at a rate to make the tires of the big sextuplet at the bicycle show collapse with shame.

Prof. Henry S. Pritchett, who tells the story of the firmament to pupils at the Washington University, says, though, that just as the comet gets within a little less than a day's journey of the earth it will take a new tack and veer off into space.

The new comet isn't cutting much ice anyhow, says Prof. Pritchett.

"It is really of very little importance," said Prof. Pritchett to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "For that reason not much attention is being paid to it. We have made a few observations at the University, and have figured on its orbit. I have not the figures at hand, and cannot remember them exactly. The statement that it is but 40,000,000 miles distant and is traveling toward us at the rate of 1,600,000 miles a day, however, is slightly overdrawn. It is true that the section of its orbit which it is now traversing carries it toward the earth, but about March 1 it will swing around and go off in the opposite direction to where it belongs."

According to Prof. Pritchett this particular contents of the content of the conten about March 1 it will swing around and go off in the opposite direction to where it belongs."

According to Prof. Pritchett this particular comet doesn't dance in our set by any means. It is entirely outside the family. The only comets really received into the good society of astronomers and recognized comprise a very exclusive family of twelve or thirteen that swing around the sun in an eternal and stately minuet. Perrine's comet is only a common celestial tramp, trying to force itself into good society.

"This comet is of an entirely different character from the regular class," said Prof. Pritchett. "This is its first appearance and so far no one is able to say when it will reappear. It comes from no one knows where and is going to the same place. Its orbit is practically an unknown quantity, save that the earth is safe from any collision with it. The nearest it will approach the earth will be 10,000,000 miles, which will be reached on March 1. We cannob calculate how long it has been whirling through space or how it was formed. It belongs to another system, and has no relation to our sun. Whether it revolves around another sun or not cannot be told. The earth's attraction will probably swerve it somewhat from its orbit."

Prof. Pritchett says that the comet's departure from its regular orbit will not be enough to hurt.

Few persons, probably, will care to take the trouble to look for any old comet like Perrine's It will be barely discernible and some difficulty will be experienced in locations.

RUNYON'S BODY UNHONORED.

It Was Carted Away From the Pier is an Express Wagen.

protected the comn containing the body of Theodore Runyon, former Ambassadoy from the United States to Germany, was slowered yesterday from the steamship Havel and laid upon American soil.

It had been expected that either State or Federal authorities would be on hand to take charge of the body, but to the surprise of the local officials and those of the steamship company none appeared.

The lack of ceremony on the pier and the neglect of all the customary honors attracted the attention of the passengers on the Havel, many of whom expressed surprise at the seeming lack of respect shown the memory of the dead man.

The body, in a sealed metallic coffin and incased in a pine shipping box, was taken from the Havel and placed in an express wagon. In this undignified manner, unescorted save for the driver and undertaker, it was taken to the Delaware. Lackawanna & Western station and placed in an express car. The pine box was exceptionally large and it proved too wide for the door of the car. A portion of it had to be chopped away. Once inside, it was covered with an American flag.

About two hours afterward Maj.-Gen. Plume and his staff arrived at the station. They took charge of the body in behalf of the State and accompanied it to Newark.

President Dole was born in 1843. He graduated from Norwich University in the class of 1869, and became professor of political science in the university. In 1895 he was unanimously elected president, to succeed ex-Secretary of State Hon. George Nichols.

He has held, as the public good required, nearly all the public offices in the gift of his townsmen. In a recent letter, he says:

The sophomores re-leased a flock of pigeons wearing their col-ors, and the freshmen pelted the birds with hymn books, clubs and hats. Both classes were yelling and scrambling over seats, while President Burroughs in vain called for order. The students surged into the halls and began a class fight. President Burroughs rushed in, but was pushed aside and his entreaties drowned by the hilarious yells of the students. It is said that wholesale expulsions will follow. TORREON, Mex., Feb. 2.—Nine more negroes from Tahualilo Colony have reached here. They are in want and are seeking aid to return to their homes. They say that about sixty more are anxious to leave, but are without means to do so. They add that men are paid but 35 cents per day for labor. United States Consul Poston has taken the matter up in connection with Minister Ransom.

Nerve-tired, despondent, enfeebled persons again enjoy living after their feeble, shrunken nerves have been fed by a grand restorative like Paine's celery compound. Sleeplessness, usually due to an abnormally excited, overworked, but under-fed brain, vanishes with the coming of a rich tide of nourishing blood.

Paine's celery compound purifies the blood, stores the nervous system with energy and hurries along the replacing of worn-out, diseased parts by healthy, active tissues. Conrad's 27/2 Franklin Av. LENTEN NOVELTIES.
